Tim Feeney, PhD

of School & Community Support Services
& Consulting Inc., Latham, New York

Practical strategies for addressing challenging social-emotional behaviors.

April 19 & 20, 2012 Greenwood Inn & Suites Conference Centre
8:30 AM – 4:30 PM 1715 Wellington Ave. Winnipeg

This 2-day workshop will be dynamic, fun and interactive! Dr. Feeney is well-known for his every day functional approaches:

- Using real life videotaping and case studies to develop behavioral supports for individuals with challenging behaviours.
- Focusing assessment that is context sensitive and collaborative with all multidisciplinary team members.
- Developing intervention plans that are pro-active and preventative for emerging future problems.
- Using cognitive and communicative approaches to put in place positive behavior supports.
- Focus on integrating meaningful activities in an individual's daily routine.
- Helping individuals with challenging behaviors learn how to self-regulate.

In addition, Dr. Tim Feeney has offered to provide collaborative and positive behavioral intervention for our local clients. Clinicians, clients and survivors are welcome to bring their most challenging or difficult social/emotional behavioral issues to discuss as an interactive group throughout the 2-day workshop. Please send your real life case studies, videos or stories to info@blockbuilding.ca prior to April 1, 2012 if you would like them discussed at the conference.

About the Presenter:

Tim Feeny is the Executive Director of School and Community Support, Inc. He has assisted numerous school districts in the development of system-wide changes in order to provide sustainable, high quality, and cost-effective special education and rehabilitation services. For 16 years he was the Project Director of the New York neurobehavioral Resource Project, a program developed to support individuals with brain injury and significant behavioral challenges to live successfully in their home communities.

Over the past 20 years, Tim has worked in a variety of capacities including: special education teacher, program director of a state program for individuals with autism, coordinator of educational services, coordinator behavioral services, staff psychologist, consulting behavior specialist, and assistant professor of special education. In addition, Tim has extensive experience developing services for individuals on the autism spectrum, including work with school districts to support students with autism, Asperger's Syndrome, and pervasive developmental disorders.

Tim has authored over 50 scholarly journal articles and book chapters, and co-authored Collaborative Brain Injury Intervention: Positive Everyday Routines. He travels the world speaking about collaborative supports for individuals with brain injury, autism and related disorders, and individuals with challenging behavior.
